Canon Without Closure: Torah Commentaries

by Ismar Schorsch

A landmark collection of commentaries on the weekly Torah portion by Dr. Ismar Schorsch, Chancellor Emeritus of The Jewish Theological Seminary and currently the Rabbi Herman Abramovitz Professor of Jewish History. Each commentary draws upon Dr. Schorsch's wide breadth of Jewish scholarship, Talmudic teachings, and inspirational personal insights. Dr. Schorsch focuses on the deep roots of Judaism present in the weekly reading and illustrates their significance in the development of Judaism and Jewish practice. Taken as a whole, the Torah's teachings become uniquely relevant, as the basic tenets of Judaism are applied to the realities of modern life.
